

Exhibit T

Public Reform Statements vs. Household Trading Record

Count supported. Credibility framing for Count 1 and the §VI anticipated-response cluster on the separately-managed-account defense. Not a standalone STOCK Act §3, §4, or 5 U.S.C. § 13105(l) charging theory.

Question. On at least eight dated occasions during 2023–2026, respondent publicly endorsed banning Congressional stock trading, introduced reform legislation to that effect, and stated that he does not trade and has no input in his spouse’s trust. What did the household trade in the ± 30 -day window around each of those statements?

1. Scope and method

This exhibit pairs eight dated public statements in which respondent endorsed a Congressional stock-trading ban (or co-sponsored / introduced reform legislation) with household Periodic Transaction Report activity within ± 30 days of the statement date. Statements are sourced from Washington Examiner press accounts, X post timestamps, respondent’s own legislative filings, and Newsweek reporting. Household trades are queried from the House Clerk PTR substrate filtered to the filer’s household (member, spouse, dependent-child accounts).

The pairing is not a material-non-public-information claim. It is a juxtaposition of dated reform rhetoric with dated household trading volume in the surrounding window.

Two-universe baseline. Respondent’s late-filing rate under 5 U.S.C. § 13105(l) is 2.84%, below the chamber median of 10.34% and below the peer-46 cohort median. Respondent’s worst single late filing is 358 days, ranking chamber P49.5 (below median) and peer-46 P32.6 (below median). The probative weight of this exhibit is therefore not a rate-based or severity-based outlier framing; it is the gross volume of household trading concurrent with respondent’s own anti-trading rhetoric.

2. Eight dated statements, with trade activity ± 30 days

#	Date	Forum	Statement	± 30 d trades	Buy	Sell	Min $	Max $
1	2023-09-14	Washington Examiner / House floor	Unveils 5-point political-reform blueprint including a ban on stock trading for lawmakers.	815	443	372	$2.66 M	$16.17 M
2	2023-12-14	Press release / X / H. Res. 938	Introduces H. Res. 938 (“Expressing support for a comprehensive political reform plan”). Quotes: “Our political system should not be for sale.”	451	284	167	$8.34 M	$40.70 M
3	2024-05-07	House PTR filing	Files 25-page PTR disclosing April 2024 trades, the same week as the anti-trading X post below.	789	419	370	$2.57 M	$15.88 M
4	2024-05-12	Benzinga / X	“Don’t come to Congress if you want to make a profit.” “Let’s ban members of Congress from trading stock.”	807	434	373	$2.84 M	$16.70 M
5	2024-11-13	X (@RepRoKhanna) status 18564447483009555	“My 5-point political reform plan will: Ban PAC & lobbyist money / Ban stock trading by members of Congress. Enact term limits...”	738	488	250	$4.20 M	$18.65 M
6	2024-12-27	X (@RepRoKhanna) status 1872688902156501033	“It’s time to clean up corruption in Washington. Let’s pass my bill to: ... Ban stock trading by members of Congress ...”	884	515	369	$4.07 M	$20.35 M
7	2025-04-16	Washington Examiner	“No one should come to Congress to make a profit. Americans want to see a stock ban, and as a co-sponsor of the bipartisan TRUST in Congress Act, I’m glad to see Leader Jeffries voice support for a ban.”	828	470	358	$3.09 M	$17.56 M
8	2026-04-15	Newsweek (112% return report)	“I have been a leader to ban Congressional stock trading, do not trade, and have no input in the trades filed by my wife’s trust.”	369	213	156	$2.70 M	$10.19 M
Total across 8 windows				5,681	3,266	2,415	$30.5 M	$156.2 M

Two windows (2024-05-07 and 2024-05-12) overlap by 25 days; the totals are per-window counts, not deduplicated. A portion of the May 2024 rows is double-counted across windows 3 and 4.

The legislative-history scaffold for the table is independently confirmed in the lake substrate: H. Res. 938 (118th Congress, introduced 2023-12-14) and its 119th Congress companion H. Res. 200 (introduced 2025-03-06) appear in the bills index under respondent as sponsor; respondent appears in the cosponsors index for the TRUST in Congress Act (117th: H.R. 336; 118th: H.R. 345; 119th: H.R. 396) and the ETHICS Act (118th: H.R. 2678; 119th: H.R. 4890).

3. Headline ± 7 -day pairings at the higher dollar brackets

The ± 30 -day windows contain hundreds of trades each. The closer-in-time ± 7 -day pairings are summarized below; the cluster bracketing Statement 7 is the largest and is broken out in full.

Statement 1 — 2023-09-14. The household sold a Honeywell position on 2023-09-13, purchased Microsoft on 2023-09-15 (one calendar day after the floor announcement), purchased Honeywell on 2023-09-18, and sold Johnson & Johnson on 2023-09-21 (each $1K–$15K bracket).

Statement 2 — 2023-12-14. Two same-day Johnson & Johnson purchases on 2023-12-07 ($1K–$15K each, one SP and one DC). ± 7 -day activity at the higher brackets is otherwise limited; the full ± 30 -day window contains 451 trades and $8.34 M – $40.70 M in disclosed dollar volume.

Statements 3 + 4 — May 2024. Bank-holding-company hybrid-perpetual purchases bracket the disclosure window and the Benzinga post: JPMorgan Hybrid Perpetual on 2024-05-01 (SP and DC) and on 2024-05-13 (DC), with a 2024-05-03 GOOGL FLEX option sale interleaved (each $1K–$15K bracket).

Statement 6 — 2024-12-27. Same-day purchases on the day of the X post: Okta, Inc. Common Class A and Ultra Clean Holdings, Inc. Common, both $1K–$15K bracket, both SP. Ultra Clean Holdings supplies semiconductor capital equipment; Okta supplies enterprise identity software with federal and DoD customers. The full ± 7 -day window 2024-12-20 through 2025-01-03 contains 37 trades in the $\geq $15K$ bracket, including XSP options, Prudential hybrid perpetual, multiple Colgate-Palmolive purchases, and a 2025-01-03 MRVL CALL FLEX EURO PM sale.

Statement 7 — 2025-04-16. Broken out in full below.

Trade date	Type	Ticker	Asset	Bracket	Owner	Days
2025-04-09	SELL	AAPL	Apple Inc. Common	$1K–$15K	SP	–7
2025-04-09	SELL	AMZN	Amazon.com Inc Common	$1K–$15K	SP	–7
2025-04-09	SELL	PFE	Pfizer Inc. Common	$1K–$15K	SP	–7
2025-04-15	BUY	AAPL	Apple Inc. Common	$15K–$50K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	SELL	AMZN	Amazon.com Inc Common	$1K–$15K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	BUY	MRK	Merck & Co., Inc. Common	$15K–$50K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	BUY	MSFT	Microsoft Corporation Common	$15K–$50K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	BUY	PFE	Pfizer Inc. Common	$15K–$50K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	BUY	—	Johnson Controls International Common	$15K–$50K	DC	–1
2025-04-15	BUY	—	JPMorgan Chase & Co Common	$1K–$15K	DC	–1
2025-04-23	SELL	MRK	Merck & Co., Inc. Common	$1K–$15K	SP	+7
2025-04-23	SELL	MSFT	Microsoft Corporation Common	$1K–$15K	SP	+7
2025-04-23	BUY	—	Palantir Technologies Inc. Common	$15K–$50K	DC	+7
2025-04-23	BUY	—	Johnson Controls International Common	$1K–$15K	SP	+7
2025-04-23	BUY	—	Palantir Technologies Inc. Common	$1K–$15K	SP	+7

On 2025-04-15 — one day before the Jeffries quote — the household placed seven $15K–$50K bracket BUYs in a single day (AAPL, MRK, MSFT, PFE, JCI, JPM) and one smaller AMZN sell, all in the dependent-child account. Four of the seven BUYs are pharma or tech (PFE, MRK, MSFT, AAPL). Eight days later, on 2025-04-23, the household added two Palantir purchases across dependent-child and spouse accounts; Palantir falls within respondent’s House Armed Services Committee jurisdiction.

4. Composite counts across the eight windows

- 5,681 transactions within ± 30 days of an anti-trading public statement;
- 3,266 buys versus 2,415 sells (a $1.35\times$ ratio of buys to sells across the eight windows);
- $30.5 million minimum / $156.2 million maximum in disclosed dollar volume, midpoint approximately $93 million.

These figures sit alongside respondent's repeated framing — "I do not trade and have no input in the trades filed by my wife's trust" — which is the framing addressed by the separately-managed-account anticipated response and by Exhibit L on the primary-source PFD record.

5. Direct quotations of the reform statements

Our political system should not be for sale.

— Khanna press release, 2023-12-14, introducing H. Res. 938.

Don't come to Congress if you want to make a profit ... Let's ban members of Congress from trading stock.

— Khanna X post (paraphrased per Benzinga), early May 2024.

Let's pass my bill to: Ban PAC & lobbyist donations / Ban members from becoming lobbyists / Ban stock trading by members of Congress / Enact term limits for Congress & SCOTUS / Enact a code of ethics for SCOTUS.

— Khanna X post (@RepRoKhanna status 1872688902156501023), 2024-12-27.

No one should come to Congress to make a profit. Americans want to see a stock ban, and as a co-sponsor of the bipartisan TRUST in Congress Act, I'm glad to see Leader Jeffries voice support for a ban.

— Khanna to the Washington Examiner, 2025-04-16.

I have been a leader to ban Congressional stock trading, do not trade, and have no input in the trades filed by my wife's trust.

— Khanna to Newsweek, 2026-04-15.

The intent of the resolution has always been to ban members and family members and require them to put their assets in an approved trust. ... The Trust Act is the vehicle for a stock ban so there is absolutely no room for interpretation.

— Khanna update statement, December 2024 (responding to reporting that H. Res. 938 contains a spouse loophole).

6. Disposition

This exhibit supplies the credibility axis for the §VI anticipated-response cluster on the separately-managed-account defense. Respondent has been on record on at least eight dated occasions across 2023–2026 calling for a Congressional stock-trading ban that, by the terms of the TRUST in Congress Act he co-sponsors and H. Res. 938 he introduced, would apply to the Member, the spouse, and dependent children. The household placed thousands of trades within ± 30 days of those statements at a midpoint disclosed dollar volume of approximately $93 million. The juxtaposition does not promote to a STOCK Act §3, §4, or 5 U.S.C. § 13105(l) violation; it stands as a contemporaneous rhetorical-versus-conduct record relevant to the separately-managed-account framing addressed elsewhere in the package.

End of exhibit.