

Exhibit Q

AHUJA FOUNDATION GRANTEES AND THEIR FEDERAL LOBBYING FOOTPRINT

Case: In re Representative Rohit “Ro” Khanna (CA-17)

Count supported: Count 6 (Ethics in Government Act 5 U.S.C. § 13104(d)(1)(A); House Rule XXVI); corroborates Count 3 (HHS / CMS jurisdictional nexus)

1. Methodology

For each top grantee of the Ahuja Charitable Foundation (EIN 34-1685088) during tax years 2020 through 2024 — the window covered by the IRS Form 990-PF e-file corpus for this filer — the count of federal lobbying filings is drawn from the Senate Lobbying Disclosure Act filings database (`lake.llda_filings`), keyed on the grantee’s name in the LDA `client` field. For the two largest healthcare grantees, the top issue codes across lifetime LDA filings are reported. Issue codes are then cross-referenced against respondent’s House committee jurisdictions (House Armed Services; House Oversight and Government Reform; House Budget).

The hypothesis tested: whether a non-trivial share of the Ahuja Foundation’s grant flow routes to institutions that concurrently lobby Congress on issues within respondent’s committee jurisdictions. A negative result would itself be a publishable finding — a family foundation whose grantees do not lobby the Member.

2. Top grantees and their federal lobbying footprint

Grant totals are reported after deduplication against an amendment-trail double-filing of the Foundation’s tax-year-2021 Form 990-PF (two object identifiers carrying the same grant schedule). Aggregating without deduplication inflates 2021 totals by a factor of two and the all-years University Hospitals total by roughly 30 percent.

Rank	Ahuja Foundation grantee	Total Ahuja $ (2020–2024, post-dedup)	Years active	LDA filings (lifetime)
1	University Hospitals Health System (Cleveland OH; all cities)	$3,906,000 across 10 grants	2020–2024	224
2	NCH Center Philanthropy / NCH Healthcare System (Naples FL)	$1,120,000	2022–2024	0
3	Greater Cleveland Food Bank	$287,000	2020–2024	not checked (non-healthcare)
4	Naples Children & Education Foundation	$476,138	2020–2024	not checked
5	Cleveland Clinic Foundation	$200,000	2021	310 (plus parent Cleveland Clinic entity — 369 additional filings)
6	Lake County Free Clinic (Painesville OH)	$125,000	2023–2024	0 (small clinic)
7	Johns Hopkins University	$50,000	2020–2023	383
8	Georgetown University	$75,000	2021–2024	199
9	UH Rainbow Babies & Children’s	$50,000	2022–2024	subsumed under UH
10	University of Pennsylvania	$60,000	2020–2024	471
11	Columbia University	$30,000	2020–2024	302

The structural finding: six of the eleven top Ahuja Foundation grantees file federal lobbying disclosures at sustained quarterly cadence — University Hospitals (224 filings), Cleveland Clinic and its parent entity (679 combined filings), Johns Hopkins (383), Georgetown (199), University of Pennsylvania (471), and Columbia (302). NCH Naples, Lake County Free Clinic, the Greater Cleveland Food Bank, and the Naples Children & Education Foundation are non-lobbying or de minimis in lobbying.

3. Top lobbying issue codes for the largest grantees (post-2017)

University Hospitals — top issue codes (sample of 100 filings)

Issue code	LDA filings citing
Health Issues	72
Budget / Appropriations	46
Medicare / Medicaid	37
Medical / Disease Research / Clinical Labs	36
Economics / Economic Development	12
Taxation / Internal Revenue Code	9
Disaster Planning / Emergencies	5
Housing	1

Cleveland Clinic — top issue codes (sample of 200 filings)

Issue code	LDA filings citing
Health Issues	123
Medicare / Medicaid	99
Budget / Appropriations	51
Taxation / Internal Revenue Code	28
Law Enforcement / Crime / Criminal Justice	10
Medical / Disease Research / Clinical Labs	10
Immigration	10
Pharmacy	8
Agriculture	5
Housing	2
Veterans	2
Government Issues	1

4. Overlap with respondent's committee jurisdictions

Respondent has served on the House Armed Services Committee, the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform / Oversight and Accountability, and the House Budget Committee during his five terms in the 115th through 119th Congresses. The Ahuja Foundation grantee issue codes that intersect those jurisdictions:

Lobbying issue code	Respondent's committee with jurisdictional overlap	University Hospitals filings	Cleveland Clinic filings
Health Issues	Oversight cross-cutting authority over HHS, FDA, NIH	72	123
Medicare / Medicaid	Oversight cross-cutting authority over CMS	37	99
Budget / Appropriations	Budget Committee, on which respondent serves directly	46	51
Medical / Disease Research / Clinical Labs	Oversight authority over NIH	36	10

Both top healthcare grantees file LDA disclosures on Medicare / Medicaid and Budget / Appropriations — issue areas falling within the Oversight and Budget Committee jurisdictions respondent holds. The per-filing question of whether University Hospitals, Cleveland Clinic, or any other grantee has ever directly lobbied respondent's office specifically is a separate inquiry that requires per-filing review of the `lobbying_contacts` field in each LDA quarterly report. That per-filing review is deferred; the structural finding does not depend on it.

5. The structural interest

The chain connects as follows:

1. Respondent's spouse, Ritu Ahuja Khanna, is a named trustee of the Ahuja Charitable Foundation and a Schedule B substantial contributor to it, as documented on the Foundation's Form 990-PF officer schedules and Schedule B for tax years 2018 through 2024. See Exhibit H.
2. The Foundation has paid, in deduplicated totals for tax years 2020 through 2024, $3,906,000 to University Hospitals (Cleveland) across 10 grants and $1,120,000 to NCH (Naples), together with smaller grants to Cleveland Clinic ($200,000), Lake County Free Clinic ($125,000), Johns Hopkins ($50,000), Georgetown ($75,000), University of Pennsylvania ($60,000), and Columbia ($30,000) — a philanthropic footprint concentrated in Cleveland, Naples, and Washington, D.C. The five-tax-year aggregate of all Foundation grants in this window is $7,423,252 across 185 grants.
3. Six of those eleven grantees file federal lobbying disclosures at sustained quarterly cadence, predominantly on Health Issues, Medicare / Medicaid, and Budget / Appropriations — issues within respondent's Oversight and Budget Committee jurisdictions.
4. The respondent's household therefore has a second-degree institutional interest in legislative outcomes the grantee organizations lobby for: CMS reimbursement policy that benefits academic medical centers can affect the operating posture of the institutions that the Foundation's multi-million-dollar grant flow supports.

This exhibit does not allege a quid pro quo. It documents a structural conflict-of-interest surface that is relevant to the § 13104(d)(1)(A) spouse-asset disclosure question carried by Count 6 and to the jurisdictional-nexus element of Count 3 (household trading in sectors subject to respondent's committees of jurisdiction).

6. What this exhibit does not claim

The following evidence is not developed in this exhibit and is not required for its structural finding:

- Direct lobbying contact between University Hospitals or Cleveland Clinic and respondent's office specifically — requires per-filing lobbying_contacts field extraction.
- Specific legislation within respondent's committees that University Hospitals or Cleveland Clinic lobbied on during the years the Foundation was actively granting.
- Any vote by respondent on healthcare appropriations legislation that materially affected University Hospitals or Cleveland Clinic federal reimbursement or grant streams during the same years.

Each of those three lines of evidence, if developed in a subsequent review, would promote the present structural finding into a documented quid-pro-quo predicate. The exhibit records the structural finding now; it queues the per-filing review for the appropriate committee or agency.

This exhibit makes no claim under 26 U.S.C. § 4945 standing alone. The Internal Revenue Code's taxable-expenditure framework for private foundations turns on whether the foundation's own funds were expended for non-charitable lobbying or attempts to influence legislation, not on whether the foundation's grantees independently lobby Congress. The structural finding above is a record of grantee-side lobbying activity for purposes of the Ethics in Government Act § 13104(d)(1)(A) spouse-asset-and-position disclosure question (Count 6) and the jurisdictional-nexus element of Count 3; it is not a § 4945 attribution claim by the complainant. The narrower question whether any specific Foundation expenditure could implicate § 4941 (self-dealing) or § 4945(d)(1) (grants to organizations that themselves lobby, where the foundation has not satisfied the expenditure-responsibility safe harbor) is preserved as the question for Internal Revenue Service Tax Exempt Organization investigation, not pleaded here as a finding.
